editorial!

Well my editorial in the last issue of White Voice certainly caused a stir, which it is exactly what it was meant to do. However, a clarification.

I posed the question "Why does British Movement exist?" And that may sound a bit harsh. To clarify I was asking why BM - and all the other groups actually exist.

With British Movement I have answered my own question. BM was formed by Colin Jordan in 1966, the year before the formation of the National Front and is the longest lasting Nationalist group in the country.

At the time of deciding which groups should be allowed to unite together to form the then newly forming National Front, two groups were turned down initially, They were Colin Jordan's BM and John Tyndall's Greater Britain Movement. I am fairly sure that it was the hostility of

The late Andrew Fountaine who vetoed them both, though I cannot prove that. However, the decision of allow GBM members to join was changed and JT advised his followers to join the NF which brought on board such professionals as Denis Pirie, Martin Webster and Dave Pascoe amongst others - all of whom initially proved a great boon to the early NF.

JT had to wait a probationary one year before he too was allowed to join, brining in with him the legendary Spearhead magazine and also giving the NF its future best Chairman. The same deal should have been offered to CJ and his British Movement but sadly it neverwas. A big mistake on the part of the National Front for it robbed the new Movement of a great speaker and organiser and may I say also, a courageous and honourable man. He was shabbily treated by the NF at the time and so carried on his work with British Movement so there is the answer, BM exists because the NF wouldn't admit it into the Unity we had created for all British Nationalists. It was inexcusable and an insult to Colin Jordan. BM exists therefore to carry on both the work and memory of Colin and that is in itself a noble cause. Steve Frost, National Secretary of BM has produced what I think will become the definitive biography of Colin Jordan's tumultuous life in "Twaz a good fight". Its great reading and I recommend every serious White Nationalist to buy a copy.

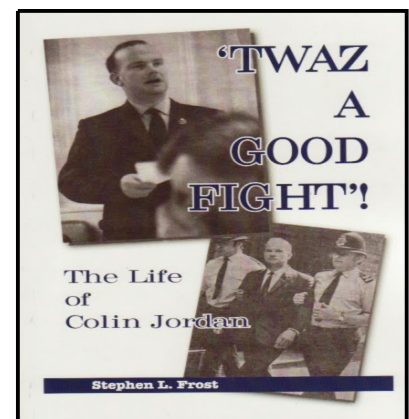

This then still begs the question - is it too late for British Movement to unite with the National Front and bring in its members?

BM does needs devote its political activities to supporting and being part of a resurgent NF?

It's NEVER to late!

Ursula Haverbeck - the fight for free speech

URSULA HAVERBECK, the courageous 89-year-old German woman who dared to speak the truth about the mostly-fictional Jewish “Holocaust,” is in prison only because she spoke her mind. An honorable and brave woman and grandmother, rotting in prison (again!) — while real violent criminals, subversives, and invaders roam free in Germany or receive microscopic sentences for raping or attacking Germans.

On orders of the prosecutor Verden, the police last Monday afternoon stormed the property where she was staying and the 89-year-old was seized. Mrs. Haverbeck had, until recently, been in attempts to negotiate a postponement of her sentence based on her ailing health and her candidacy for the European parliament, had refused to appear on those grounds. The ZOG—controlled press had called stridently for the brutal seizure which took place.

Ursula Haverbeck has been incarcerated in the prison Bielefeld-Senne. Whether she will remain there or be transferred to another prison is still unclear. Stand in solidarity and show Ursula Haverbeck that she is not alone. Fill the mailboxes of the prison with expressions of solidarity:

Mrs. Haverbeck was convicted of violating the alien-inspired laws forbidding the questioning of Jewish World War 2 atrocity stories. She did not show up for her scheduled incarceration a few days ago, but government thugs, responding to Jewish Groups demands, invaded the home where she was staying today and carried her off to prison. The “Holocaust” (as the Jews style their never to be questioned sufferings in World War 2) is used as a psychological weapon to inculcate self-hatred and guilt in Whites, especially White children, so they will be morally disarmed and unable to fight against their own dispossession and genocide.

Patriots are organizing nationwide solidarity actions all over Germany to support this courageous lady: Campaigners for truth are in the cities and towns and villages, with the aim of drawing attention to this madness and tyranny, and also to give Ursula Haverbeck strength for the heavy prison term that could last, in the worst case, until the day she dies.

Markle the Marxist!

The wedding, which no White Nationalist would want to watch of the half-caste Meghan Markle to Prince Harry has no precedent in the history of the Royal family. How will a relatively ordinary person, albeit a celebrity, cope with the rigid etiquette and stifling sense of entitlement of the culture into which they are marrying? We are referring to the hair head, Harry. This Prince Charming is not exactly an intellectual as he carries around his silly grin and hangs about with his best pal Barack Hussein Obama II. Here's another fun fact - Markle, who is best known for her role on the USA Network drama "Suits," was married to Jewish producer Trevor Engelson from 2011 to 2013. The pair had a Jewish wedding in Jamaica (complete with a "Jewish chair dance," meaning the hora).

We not kidding, alas. Since she was a small girl, Markle has breathed the purified air of the liberal American 'filter bubble' – so called because it ruthlessly filters out people, ideas and even casual turns of phrase that are deemed 'inappropriate'.

God help the prince, for example, if he implies – even in jest – that it's a woman's job to do the washing up. Procter & Gamble made that mistake back in the 1990's, when they put out a TV advertisement for dishwashing liquid claiming that 'women are fighting greasy pots and pans'.

Enter the 11-year-old Meghan, who wrote to first lady Hillary Clinton to protest at this sexism and appeared on national television to ask: 'How could somebody say that?' Procter & Gamble caved in and changed 'women' to 'people'.

It was a historic moment, reminding girls 'that their voices are in fact not small at all and that they can effect change'. Or so we were assured by a United Nations 'advocate for women', who at a conference in 2015 was moved almost to tears by the little girl's achievement. Only a cynic would suggest that the effect would have been even more powerful if the speaker hadn't been television actress Meghan Markle.

'She will surely become the most left-wing member of the Royal family,' says The Guardian, which gushes as deferentially as a Pathé newsreel as soon as her name is mentioned. But the paper has a point – and not just because the competition isn't exactly stiff.

Meghan is a very big fan of the Jewish intellectual and Communist Noam Chomsky, the 89-year-old socialist intellectual and American cheerleader for Jeremy Corbyn. She describes his book Who Rules the World? as 'a great read' – and so it is, if you blame US foreign policy for all the evils in the world. Critics found it selective in its targets, but that is unlikely to worry Ms Markle: as an international campaigner for women, she is – to her credit – big on racism and the stigma surrounding menstruation; less vocal on female genital mutilation or the untold indignities visited on women by Islam.

Awkwardly, one of the public figures that Chomsky most despises will be a guest at the Royal wedding: Barack Obama. But the former president is unlikely to take offence. Meghan studied international relations at Northwestern University, Illinois, in the aftermath of 9/11. For her generation of well-heeled liberal students, Chomsky is a national treasure, a sort of anarcho-syndicalist Queen Mother. She must be thrilled that, in a recent interview, he predicted that she would 'shake up the Royal family' – though he didn't say how.

One possibility is that she will act on her convictions. If women can be 'empowered' by a change in the wording of a dishwashing ad, then think how gloriously they would be liberated by a 'strong, confident' feminist, as Meghan describes herself, who shrugs off male-imposed, class-ridden customs. She could decline to curtsy or be curtsied to, and refuse to be addressed as 'Your Royal Highness'.

To summarise this horror of a wedding, a waste of money, emotions and time - goofy Prince Harry, himself a 'snowflake' is marrying a mixed race divorcee from a Jewish husband where she had a Jewish wedding. She is so liberal that to describe her ideology as Marxist is defensible. It's as if he's putting two fingers up to the British Nation.

The one thing that is puzzling is that King Edward VIII, a man who was a British Nationalist, was forced to abdicate because his wife to be, Wallace Simpson was a divorcee. So why no protests from Canterbury this time round?

Lighten Up!

Mahatma Gandhi often walked barefoot which produced an impressive set of callouses on his feet. He also ate very little, making him rather frail and with his odd diet he often suffered from bad breath. This made him a super calloused fragile mystic hexed with halitosis.

Ira and Esther Goldberg had a large family of seven healthy children. They moved to America from Europe and were having a difficult time finding an apartment to live in. Many apartments were large enough, but the landlords objected to such a large family. After several days of unsuccessful searching, Ira asked Esther to take the four younger children to visit the cemetery, while he took the older three to find an apartment..

After they had looked most of the morning, they found a place that was just right.

The landlord asked the usual question: "How many children do you have?"

Ira answered with a deep sigh, "Seven... but four are with their dear mother in the cemetery."

He got the apartment!

From our Ulster Correspondent....The IRA - never forgive, never forget!

That the IRA ceased their murderous campaign decades ago didn't mean that they had gone, it was simply a tactical manoeuvre as the republican movement morphed into a political guise that continued its struggle by different means, a multifaceted campaign both cultural and propagandist has occupied a new generation of republican cadres.

Firstly we have the revisionist agenda which seeks to decriminalise the IRA's actions during the troubles, victims of republican violence airbrushed from the history books with victim-hood conferred on the terrorists and the community which supported them both then and now with guilt shifted to both the loyalist community and the security forces, a tactic so successful that it's architects cannot believe it as the Westminster regime moves to prosecute those who defended the realm against the genocidal fenian insurgents, whilst the perpetrators of ethnic and cultural genocide were afforded "letters of comfort" from Blair as part of the political sell out of the "Good Friday Agreement".

The Republican enthusiasm for an Irish language act may seem somewhat odd given that here in the Province we have more Polish and Lithuanian speakers than those, including Sinn Féin politicians, who can actually speak Gaelic! However the demand for this quango has seen the collapse of NI's political institutions as loyalist elected representatives see this as but the thin end of the wedge, with republican dominated authorities erecting signs in a language that even their own people can't speak!

The Gaelic agenda was of course a central plank of the IRA, but while the deluded psychopaths blowing up children and murdering pensioners may have believed their actions were for "a united Ireland, Gaelic and free" the fact is the ideology of latter day fenians is decidedly to the left as well as being virulently multicultural thus the "Eire Nua" wouldn't be one of the ginger children frolicking in the glens, but a bog land of filth and ethnic replacement.

Politically too those who were to the fore in lauding the brutality of the IRA murder campaign have been transformed into leftist snowflakes ever keen to be offended by everything and anything contrary to their agenda. Thus when the villagers of Loughgall opted to remember the bravery of the SAS who dispatched the murder gang who were in the process of trying to murder its inhabitants by erecting a commemorative flag at the spot where the vermin met their Waterloo, SF representatives were crying about the "insensitivity" of the gesture, demands for its removal and the mention of "hate crime" also made the news!

Yes, the SAS did a fine job, but the outraged SF politicians need to look closer to home for the man guilty of setting them up! A revisionism like so much of the rest of their evil and sordid history unlikely to see the light of day!

MURDERED
BY THE IRA

Last February, the Labour Party council leader and Liverpool Mayor Joe Anderson and Merseyside Police Chief John Murphy decided that allowing the IRA to march through Liverpool would not cause a public outcry.

THERE WAS ALMOST A RIOT!

In spite of massive public opposition, Liverpool Labour Council leader and Mayor Joe Anderson has again given permission for IRA supporters to march through our city on Saturday 21st July 2012. Surely, this proves he is himself an IRA supporter? Why does he not think, after serious disorder in February, that it won't cause a public outcry again? Obviously Anderson wishes to cause distress to the relatives of the victims of these cowardly murderers and he is determined to allow the IRA to march through Liverpool. We are determined that they will NOT!

WE CALL ON ALL TRUE LOYALISTS, BRITISH NATIONALISTS AND PATRIOTS TO JOIN TOGETHER TO STOP THE IRA MARCH
IN LIVERPOOL ON SATURDAY 21st JULY

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"Dear Editor,

Recently, large demonstrations have taken place across the country protesting the fact that parliament is finally addressing the issue of illegal immigration. Certain people are angry that the UK might actually want to protect its own borders, might make it harder to sneak into this country and, once here, make it harder (as an illegal immigrant) to stay indefinitely.

Let me see if I correctly understand the thinking behind these protests. Let's say I break into your house. Then, when you discover me in your house and you demand that I leave. But I say, 'I've made all the beds and washed the dishes and done the laundry and swept the floors; I've done all the things you don't like to do. I'm hard-working and honest (except for when I broke into your house).

According to the protesters, not only must you let me stay, you must add me to your family's insurance plan, educate my children, and provide other benefits to me and to my family (my husband will do your yard work because he too is hard-working and honest, except for that breaking-in part).

If you try to call the police or force me out, I will call my friends who will picket your house carrying signs that proclaim my illegal right to be there.

It's only fair, after all, because you have a nicer house than I do, and I'm just trying to better myself. I'm hard-working and honest, um, except for well, you know. And what a deal it is for me!!

I live in your house, contributing only a fraction of the cost of my keep, and there is nothing you can do about it without being accused of selfishness, prejudice and being an anti-housebreaker. Oh yes, and I want you to learn my language so you can communicate with me. English is too hard for me to learn. You should also allow me to vote - in my own language, since I live in your house."

Why can't people see how ridiculous this is? Only in the UK."

The Campaign Against Anti-Semitism Reg number 1163790

Below is a letter I have sent to the Charities Commission concerning the bogus Charity 'The Campaign Against Anti-Semitism. If I get a reply it will be posted on Nationalist Sentinel.

Dear Sirs,
(Attention Enforcement Section)

I am contacting you about my concerns that the aforementioned 'Charity' is not a charity but a political organisation funding street demonstrations, private prosecutions and lobbying through groups such as the Conservative Friends of Israel to advance Israel's political aims and to get the Hate Crime laws changed to include no criticism of the State of Israel in a way 'which may be offensive to British Jews'.

No other country has a 'Charity' trying to outlaw Free Speech on a political subject.

The CAA states on its website:

Campaign against Anti-Semitism is a volunteer-led charity dedicated to exposing and countering anti-Semitism through education and zero-tolerance enforcement of the law. Everything that we do is done by people who volunteer their time, using donations contributed by members of the public. Join the fight against anti-Semitism by subscribing to our updates, volunteering, or donating.

(This includes funding political street demonstrations as seen by the one they mounted in London recently against the Labour Party) an organisation must choose whether it wishes to register as a community interest company (CIC) or a charity. CICs are more lightly regulated than charities but do not have the benefit of charitable status, even if their activities are entirely charitable in nature.

According to Charity Registration and Status

Trading, political and campaigning activities are restricted. A charity must have exclusively charitable aims. Some organisations may carry out their aims by a range of activities, some of them charitable, some of them not. To become a charity, this type of organisation would have to stop its non-charitable activities which the CAA makes no intent to hide.

They are using the paragraph in the Charity Commission rules of what constitutes a charity by claiming they are defending a race and or religion.

Any political organisation could do that but it would still fall foul of the Charity Commission rules regarding any sort of political promotion.

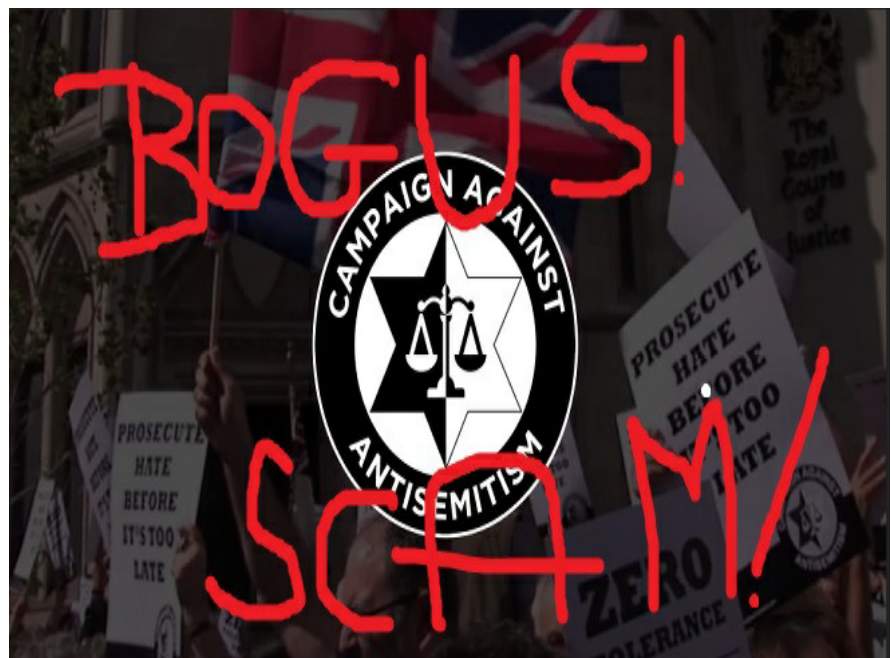

I strongly urge you to reconsider the CAAs claim to be a charity as spurious if not a downright falsehood.

The CAA carries out political witch hunts against any individual it considers an anti-Semite. Going so far as to fund Private Prosecutions when even the legal arm of the government declares that in their view there is no case to answer.

The CAA further announced today that it is funding a series of workshops to train recruits to help them combat Anti-Semitism in the Labour Party or indeed wherever it is needed.

I can find no case whatsoever where they have used funds in order to aid individuals on a charitable basis. All their activities are confined to political agitation.

I trust you will investigate this matter and await your reply

Making ourselves relevant by Richard Edmonds

All credit to those brave nationalist candidates who have just stood in this year's local government elections, but clearly the glory days of the 2000's, when the BNP was a house-hold name and storming ahead with dozens of successfully elected councillors, those days have gone, both for the BNP and equally so for UKIP and the UKIP-derivatives.

That leaves the question, how do we make ourselves relevant?, and how do we serve the British people in these dark and threatening times ? The British people have no voice; they have no party; they do not constitute a political or social force; they are nothing but the helpless victims of the war-mongering, genocidal Establishment controlling the Tory, Labour and Liberal-Democrat parties who are flooding Britain with endless millions of Third-Worlders, whilst simultaneously launching unjustified wars in the Middle East all for the sake of Israel, wars which are used as an excuse to let in millions more asylum-seekers and so-called refugees, and when the "refugees " turn out to be Islamist terrorists (surprise, surprise), then we are informed by the Establishment that terrorism is the "new normal".

So what are the solutions that we can offer?

Answer: we propose a policy of Repatriation to close down the multi-racial society in order to return this country back to the British people.

And secondly, we propose that Britain leave the American dominated military alliance of NATO. These American-led wars in the Middle East are of no benefit to Britain and they are certainly of no benefit to the inhabitants and peoples of the Arab-Muslim countries bombed and destroyed by the Americans.

And this is the deal: we pull out of NATO and stop the American wars, and in return the leaders of the Third-world (those who have in the meantime survived), take back their own populations which the traitorous, war-mongering, professional liars of the party politicians have let into Britain.

So in summary, to make British nationalism relevant in these new times, the policies are:

Stop Immigration and Start Repatriation; and pull Britain out of the war-mongering American military alliance of NATO.

THOUGHTCRIME HAS ARRIVED!

George Orwell saw a dystopian vision of the future and especially the development of Politically Correct speech which is now changing into THOUGHT CRIME.

Here, in 1984, we hear the chilling words of a PC Fanatic....

"Don't you see that the whole aim of Newspeak is to narrow the range of thought? In the end we shall make Thoughtcrime literally impossible, because there will be no words in which to express it. Every concept that can ever be needed will be expressed by exactly one word, with its meaning rigidly defined and all its subsidiary meanings rubbed out and forgotten."* (1.5.23, Syme)

Jack Renshaw - currently imprisoned for his politics. I had a short letter from Jack this week in which he quoted this very apt poem:

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the scroll.
I am the master of my fate:
I am the captain of my soul.
